A Leader in Global Education

“As the head of a talented, dedicated, and well-organized team of professionals, I am confident in our ability to deliver an unparalleled level of service and attention to personalization that simply cannot be rivaled.

With over two decades of experience at your disposal, we are excited to work closely with you during each phase of the process. As partners throughout the journey, we share the same goals - to ensure an educational and safe program. Most importantly, we look forward to building a long-term and trusted relationship with you and your institution in the years to come.”

We connect people.
We connect ideas.
We connect cultures.

Our mission is to develop and deliver education abroad programs with strong academic and cultural components in close partnership with faculty leaders and administrators at colleges and universities.

About us

Since 1997, CEPA has been successfully offering customized group programs and educationally focused itineraries for university professors and students.

The destinations we currently serve extend throughout Europe and also include multiple locations in Asia, Latin America, and Australia. The multi-lingual and multi-national team at CEPA is dedicated to maintaining the highest standards of excellence in everything we do.

“CEPA is small enough to be personal and still large enough to offer a broad range of services and options. They are an excellent partner who will support the international initiatives of its participants.”

Our University Partners

We place our partners at the heart of everything we do. They are the cornerstone of our organization and core values: trust, dedication, quality, and personal service are part of each and every partnership.

Together, we create custom designed study abroad programs that are based on the learning objectives unique to your courses.

Your Service Guarantee

A well-thought-out itinerary begins with an organized planning process, our expert knowledge of the destinations, close connections to local communities and cultures. By fostering these networks on a continual basis, we can provide comprehensive and flexible options which go above and beyond any expectations.

The health and safety of students and faculty leaders is our top priority. Being informed and prepared as best as we can to handle unexpected situations, no matter how small or large, are key factors that help ensure the well-being of CEPA program participants.

European Study Centers (ESC)

CEPA proudly owns and operates two beautiful study centers in the heart of Europe (pictured below). Student groups have the unique opportunity to stay in charming, historical buildings as part of their short or long-term faculty-led program.

Individual students can enroll at an ESC for a study abroad semester, take classes in English, and earn US semester transfer credits.

“During my time in Strasbourg, I learned about economies, populations, and political situations of countries that I previously didn't know where they were on a map. I learned about myself and broadened my horizons on other cultures, as well as gained connections and friends from all around the world.”

Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR)

Since its founding in 1997, CEPA has formed many successful relationships with a variety of organizations worldwide that support its mission in different capacities.

One of these relationships is with the CEPA Foundation, a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization. The CEPA Foundation is able to advance and enrich CEPA's education abroad programming and its CSR initiatives in developing countries.

Through collaborative efforts like this, CEPA is making quality academic experiences accessible to all.
