

POLITICS AND ECONOMICS (13 days)

Brazil

São Paulo > Brasília > Rio de Janeiro

Brazil is a wonderful example of a developing country facing the challenges of international politics. Due to its economic status, Brazil's visibility in the international system is emphasized more than ever.

This program aims to offer students a close interaction with professionals taking a role in the global development process. Students will talk with international leaders, civil society groups, NGO staff, government workers, and academic specialists. They will learn more about the country's new challenges in international politics as well as strategies to further strengthen its position in the global market place.
