

SERVICE LEARNING GUATEMALA

ANTIGUA TO VUELTA GRANDE
(9 DAYS/8 NIGHTS)

This program is developed for students interested to make a positive impact through service learning projects, deepen their understanding of other cultures and integrate in meaningful community service activities. During the service learning experience in Vuelta Grande, students will teach English lessons to the local students from age 3-13 at FUNCOLI'S Learning Center, established in 2014, to give local children the opportunity to attend daily classes, receive a nourishing meal, and participate in art workshops. Additionally, students will help with the construction of dry latrines or ecological stoves. Dry latrines greatly reduce the contamination of ground water, while ecological stoves help to reduce respiratory ailments and deforestation. Additional and/or different service-learning projects are available upon request.

FUNCOLI
FUNDACIÓN CORAZONES LIBRES
FREE HEARTS FOUNDATION

Fundación Corazones Libres (FUNCOLI) is a Guatemala based non-profit organization. Its goal is to improve the education, health, infrastructure, living conditions, and community development in the indigenous Maya communities. Since 2013, CEPA Foundation has worked in close partnership with FUNCOLI to provide funding and to build and maintain a learning center.

CEPA
STUDY ABROAD

CEPA is committed to positively impacting climate and social sustainability and strives to be a leader in environmental sustainability within international education. As part of this commitment, we offset the carbon footprint of our company's operations and the footprint created on-site by our study abroad programs in Europe. Additionally, we go the extra mile by funding environmental projects that plant native trees for each program participant.
